

3). The Library of The Academy of the New Church contains a type-written English translation of extracts from The Gothenburg Diocese during the Eighteenth Century, by Wilhelm Berg. The translation was made by the Reverend Emil R. Cronlund. It is accompanied by notes made by Bishop Alfred Acton.

REPORTS

(From Chapters and other Philosophy Groups)

The Glenview Chapter of the Swedenborg Scientific Association has met weekly during the past year.

We are reading The Word Explained and in a few more weeks will complete the second volume. We find it intensely interesting, both for its minute consideration of the letter of the Word, and the light it throws upon Swedenborg's preparation "to receive these doctrines in his understanding."

When the quarterly issue of the NEW PHILOSOPHY arrives we read it from cover to cover. The discussion of the articles is interesting and leads to many useful and enjoyable evenings.

That your meetings may be enjoyable and successful and that the work of the Association may prosper is the wish of The Glenview Chapter of the Swedenborg Scientific Association.

E. C. ACTON reporting

The Kitchener Philosophy Club:

Since our last report, 1956-57, six meetings were held, with an average attendance of 5.2. We have twelve subscribers [members] to the NEW PHILOSOPHY. We are reading the first volume of the Principia and also the NEW PHILOSOPHY magazine.

In one of our meetings, the question was asked: What are we getting out of reading the Principia, because it is difficult to understand? Should we read some other book more understandable?

In volume 2 of the Principia, page 545, "The Means Leading to a True Philosophy" should be read by every member of the Philosophy Club; paragraph 33 especially; then one can see how important it is to be a member of the Swedenborg Scientific Association.

GEORGE SCHNARR, Secretary

(To be concluded in the next issue)

3). The Library of The Academy of the New Church contains a type-written English translation of extracts from The Gothenburg Diocese during the Eighteenth Century, by Wilhelm Berg. The translation was made by the Reverend Emil R. Cronlund. It is accompanied by notes made by Bishop Alfred Acton.

REPORTS

(From Chapters and other Philosophy Groups)

The Glenview Chapter of the Swedenborg Scientific Association has met weekly during the past year.

We are reading The Word Explained and in a few more weeks will complete the second volume. We find it intensely interesting, both for its minute consideration of the letter of the Word, and the light it throws upon Swedenborg's preparation "to receive these doctrines in his understanding."

When the quarterly issue of the NEW PHILOSOPHY arrives we read it from cover to cover. The discussion of the articles is interesting and leads to many useful and enjoyable evenings.

That your meetings may be enjoyable and successful and that the work of the Association may prosper is the wish of The Glenview Chapter of the Swedenborg Scientific Association.

E. C. ACTON reporting

The Kitchener Philosophy Club:

Since our last report, 1956-57, six meetings were held, with an average attendance of 5.2. We have twelve subscribers [members] to the NEW PHILOSOPHY. We are reading the first volume of the Principia and also the NEW PHILOSOPHY magazine.

In one of our meetings, the question was asked: What are we getting out of reading the Principia, because it is difficult to understand? Should we read some other book more understandable?

In volume 2 of the Principia, page 545, "The Means Leading to a True Philosophy" should be read by every member of the Philosophy Club; paragraph 33 especially; then one can see how important it is to be a member of the Swedenborg Scientific Association.

GEORGE SCHNARR, Secretary

(To be concluded in the next issue)